Today I'm
visiting Half Moon Bay and Heysham Head.

I like to count steps.

These steps
take me down
to the beach.

I like visiting the beach.

The sand tickles my paws.

This seaweed is all wrangle-tangled.

Lugworm
casts look like piles of spaghetti.

A photograph of a rocky beach at low tide. A teddy bear is sitting on a pile of dark seaweed in the center. In the foreground, there is a shallow rockpool filled with water, reflecting the sky. The background shows a wide expanse of rocks and a cloudy sky. Two orange speech bubbles are overlaid on the image, containing text.

I love looking in rockpools.

What will
I find?

Some things
are rough and sharp.

Some things
are sticky and squashy.

Some things
might nip your paws!

A fluffy brown teddy bear is sitting on a large, grey rock in the foreground. The bear is facing away from the camera, looking out over a wide bay. The water is a mix of blue and brown, suggesting a mix of sea and land. In the distance, a city with many buildings is visible across the water. The sky is blue with some white clouds. The bear has a colorful, multi-colored collar around its neck.

I can see right across
the bay.

Very rocky rockpools.

We found an egg sack.

This sculpture made me giggle, I think the men look funny.

They are on a Viking ship.

This is a good place for a walk.

Bright yellow gorse flowers.

Who lives in here?

A fluffy brown teddy bear is sitting on a large grey rock in the foreground, looking out over a coastal landscape. The bear has a small, colorful, iridescent patch on its back. In the background, there is a body of water, a coastal town with buildings, a windmill, and a power station. The sky is clear and blue.

I'm having a rest as I've walked up a hill.

I can see a windmill and the power station.

What could
this be?
Is it a castle?

A close-up photograph of a large, shaggy orange bear's face on the left side of the frame. The bear has a thick, textured fur coat and a dark brown snout. To the right of the bear is a stone wall made of large, irregular grey and brown stones. The background is a clear blue sky. An orange speech bubble is positioned in the upper right quadrant, containing white text.

Strong stone walls, like a castle.

It's not a castle, it's a small ruined chapel.

When I saw
these I thought
it was bathtime!

Ouch!

Squishy
blackberries on a prickly blackberry bush.

A large, fluffy orange bear puppet is positioned on the left side of the frame, looking towards the right. The bear has a brown nose and a colorful, knitted scarf. In the background, there is a sandy beach area with a concrete ramp leading up to a building with a sign that says "Cafe". The sky is blue with some clouds.

Time to head back to the
café for a drink
and snack.

I've had a lovely day visiting Half Moon Bay
and Heysham Head.
Can you remember everything
I've seen today?

I'm very tired now.
It's time to go home.
Can you remember all
the things I've seen
today?
