

HOW TO CLAIM RESEARCH OUTPUTS IN PURE

If a record already exists in Pure for one of your research outputs, but is not connected to your person record, you can ask to be added to the record by claiming a research output.

1. On your profile page, click on the “Personal” tab and then on “My research output”.

2. Remove the 'My content' filter in the research output list view by clicking on the cross to the left of the filter.

3. Enter the title of your research output in the search bar and click on “Search”. If the record already exists in Pure, then it will be listed in the search results, Click on the record to open it in a pop-up window.
4. If you are a co-author of the research output, click on the “Claim this content” button at the bottom of the record. You will see a text box where you can add a note for the administrator. Click “Claim this content” again and the research output will automatically close.

Do you want to be added to this content?
If so - send this message to the responsible editor.

Message (optional)

You will receive a message when the content is updated

Cancel Claim this content

5. Once you have claimed your content, please email research-repository@cumbria.ac.uk with the title of your output. An administrator will action your claim and the record will then be included in your research output list.

If you have any questions about claiming content in Pure that are not answered here, or you find any errors in this user guide, please contact: research-repository@cumbria.ac.uk