The integrated foundation year (Year 0) provides the opportunity for you to settle into University life and gain the confidence and skills to succeed in your chosen degree through participating in a supportive academic, personal and professional development programme. As a Business graduate you will be enterprising and entrepreneurial in spirit and have knowledge of small medium and large organisations and the skills to work across local, regional, national, international and global boundaries. This programme will develop and enhance your academic skills, and prepare you for higher level of studies.

The Level 3 modules provide a good grounding for you to development your academic and study skills to progress onto higher levels of study (Levels 4-6). The foundation year provides unique opportunities for developing your problem solving skills, knowledge and understanding of contemporary issues whilst providing you with a grounding in essential university skills and nurturing your career aspirations. Students on the Business foundation year entry route will study six modules. These will introduce the key themes in business alongside developing your awareness of the various sub-disciplines of business e.g. marketing, human resources management, and accounting. It is intended that you will develop an understanding of challenges that have a daily impact on businesses and organisations. You will join with other foundation year students, from a range of disciplines, for some of your modules. Cross-cultural awareness and engagement is encouraged through the module Contemporary Issues and the Media in which you will be investigating key contemporary issues relating to your subject area through the lens of the media and analysing the role and influence the media has on societies appreciation of these issues. Individual Case Study that also develops your problem based learning skills and creates a rich platform for the interchange of ideas. Leading and Managing individuals and Organisations will provide you with a deeper appreciation of organisational structures and the psychology of working with and leading others.

Throughout the integrated foundation year you will have the opportunity to develop your professional skills by developing key soft skills such as communication, team working, self-management and organisation. During the generic university wide modules, you will make links with the careers team to discuss your skill development and to help you reflect on how these link to your employability and graduateness. This will be accompanied by working on your digital skills profile, ensuring you have access to the universities MOOC's and 'Linked in Learning' to help build upon your current level of IT literacy.

The higher level of studies (levels 4-6) has been designed to meet professional body standards.

This programme is distinctive in the following ways:

All our Business degrees share a common first year (Level 4), giving you a thorough grounding in your chosen specialism and an understanding of the broader context of business practices. Years 3 and 4 (Levels 5 and 6) allow you to specialise in one area in that broader range of practices.

We offer you the opportunity to study abroad for a semester or up to a year. We also offer you the opportunity to undertake a work placement – Sandwich mode -- for a year either in the UK or abroad. The year-long placement is normally undertaken between Levels 5 and 6, before your final year of undergraduate study.

We have a varied approach to learning. We like to bring to life realistic contexts through workshops, seminars and other types of discussion in addition to using the traditional lecture and seminar approaches.

We use our employer network to provide practical insight into our curriculum to complement the rigorous academic thinking that characterises degree level study.

(http://www.managers.org.uk/~media/Files/PDF/Chartered Manager Degree Apprenticeship Assessment Plan.pdf)

At the centre of the University's mission is the provision of an accessible and outstanding student experience and we aim to ensure as many people as possible benefit from the transformational opportunities provided by higher education. Our Corporate Strategy demonstrates the University's firm commitment to accessible higher education, in terms of widening participation and access. It also recognises that the University has a regional commitment to an area with significant pockets of low participation, low educational aspiration and attainment in higher education.

The Foundation Year is designed for students who have the ability to study for a degree but don't have the qualifications to enter directly onto a three year (FT) honours degree. It therefore attracts many students from non-traditional educational backgrounds and under-represented groups.

Graduate Prospects

This broad business degree with a marketing specialism gives you diverse career pathways to choose from. These include client side and agency side positions, including marketing executive, account executive and trainee management roles. Many students take up graduate management schemes, go on to further study or progress to teaching or research careers. Your career options are truly limitless - one of the benefits of a practical degree with a strong focus on employability.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategies employed to enable the Programme Outcomes to be Achieved and Demonstrated

As a student at the University of Cumbria, you are part of an inclusive learning community that recognises diversity. You will have opportunities to learn by interacting with others in a collegiate, facilitative and dynamic learning environment. Teaching, assessment and student support will allow equal and equitable opportunities for you to optimise your potential and develop autonomy.

We seek to create a stimulating and innovative community of learning, whether encountered on campus or at a distance, on placement or in the workplace. Facilitated by our expert practitioner staff, you will experience a learning environment that is well equipped, flexible, and stimulating.

Learning and Teaching

Foundation Year

University of Cumbria Business School want to motivate you in your foundation year studies through a variety of teaching and learning approaches that support different learners' needs and help to integrate you into university life. Transferable skills are central to learning opportunities and assessment. Students are encouraged to reflect on their skills development in learning and personal contexts so they develop their ability to make appropriate choices and decisions. Challenging and authentic tasks will be used to stretch your capabilities in real world learning and assessment resulting in a deeper approach to learning. The mode of assessment introduces you to the type of assessments you will encounter as you progress through your degree. You will undertake a range of assessments including written assignments, reports and essays, oral presentations and poster presentations, portfolios and set exercises such as producing a dvd news report. There is a strong emphasis on formative assessment in all modules to assist with the learning process.

The foundation year modules utilise a full range of UoC digital resources and learning technology where suitable; for example, through the University's virtual learning environment (Blackboard). Vocational practice opportunities form an essential part of the programme and encourages you to make meaningful links between the underpinning theoretical concepts within the subject area.

During the integrated foundation year you will be taught with students on a range of Business programmes and students from other departments, you will be working in groups and teams to achieve solutions to set problems, researching case studies and delivering events. Each module is led by a module leader which is the lead tutor with over-arching responsibility for that module. However, one of the strengths of this programme is our team-taught approach to delivery, you will be taught on a module by more than one tutor. This ensures you are taught topics by subject specialists, experience the different delivery styles you will encounter as you progress through your programme and on modules that you share with other programmes ensures you will meet staff from your degree programme.

This programme integrates theory and practice by providing inputs to the student learning from guest speakers, lectures, practicing managers and through supporting assessment. Students will have opportunities to give and receive peer review on formative assessment and will be guided throughout in developing their skills in this vocational aspect of their personal development.

Primarily, delivery is face to face. However, good use is made of the University's VLE and other learning resources such as e-portfolio to support teaching and learning. The team uses a wide range of teaching methods including lectures, seminars, workshops, field work, work-based learning including placements, employer based case studies, live projects, guided learning, simulations, discussion groups including virtual forums and other digital formats.

You will also be asked to work in small groups which encourage collaborative learning.

We will motivate you through your learning and engagement in the following ways:

- (a) We will balance out the assessment calendar the best we can so that you (and your tutors) reduce the stress points created by the "bunching" of assignments in the calendar;
- (b) Through your engagement you will have the ability to make informed judgements in relation to your own work;
- (c) We will provide you with effective feedback and feed forward i.e. looking ahead to the next assignment.
- (d) We have procedures in place to ensure that you are not unfairly disadvantaged in any way.

Research methods relevant to the field of study, study skills and employability are embedded into the curriculum throughout levels 4, 5 and 6. At level 4 all three areas are developed thematically in the modules UCBP 4001 Managing People and Organisations, UCBP 4002 The Business Environment and UCBP 4004 Fundamentals of Business. At level 5, all students will undertake a non-credit bearing module previously only available to students on the with sandwich route. We are extending the delivery of this module to focus on the employability prospects of those students wishing to undertake the sandwich placement (between levels 5 and 6) and for those students returning to level 6 applying for graduate training programmes. At level 6, students are induced into the employability cycle through such activities as application preparation and mock interviews during the induction programme. Research skills are enhanced through the study of either UCBP 6011 Independent Project or UCBP 6001 Applied Business Research.

Summative and Formative Assessment

(Summative) Assessment

Each module is 'summatively assessed'. These are pieces of work which together form the marks you will receive for the module. The module guide will clearly explain exactly what has to be undertaken for each module and when it is due to be handed in. You will need to develop excellent time management skills to ensure that you can manage your employment, leisure activities and university assessments.

Formal examinations feature prominently as this is the way that professional bodies test the skills and knowledge of their membership. However, the preparation strategy adopted at the University of Cumbria helps you to become more comfortable with the examination situation by ensuring each module will provide you with a 'mock' exam with feedback, to help you to prepare effectively. In addition it is important to note that there are a variety of examination types, from multi choice tests to prepared case studies.

All assessment is vocational in nature, using real life scenarios. Each assessment method builds so that feedback on each format [essay, business report, oral presentation, exam or set exercise] can contribute to your improvement for the next submission.

Student Support

We provide responsive learner support that promotes student success. Our approach to learner support is designed to support achievement and progression, champion inclusivity and accessibility, prepare you for opportunities beyond study, and promote independence and resilience, enabling you to achieve your potential.

As a student of the University of Cumbria, you will be taught by academics and expert practitioners who facilitate learning through structured inquiry. You will be provided with access to high quality academic resources through physical and digital libraries and will be supported to develop skills that enable you to become a critical, reflective, discerning and independent learner and researcher.

Induction

Induction takes place during Welcome Week prior to the start of the programme. All level 3 students will share a common induction programme to provide the opportunity for you to meet with other students in your subject area and those from other level 3 foundation programs who share common university-wide modules. You will undertake a series of activities designed to form cohesion amongst the student group, to familiarise you with the University and introduce you to a range of support services and staff who are there to help you settle into university life and help you progress through your studies. You will be shown how to use our Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) which is called 'Blackboard' and how to submit assessments using 'Turn it In'. All students will attend centrally organised sessions, Student Life and Help is at Hand

During the induction week you are allocated a Personal Tutor (PT), as are all students at the university, but in addition integrated foundation year students will also be supported by the level 3 subject area lead. You will also meet your dedicated Student Transition Advisor who is part of our awarding winning Learning Information and Student Support service (LiSS). They will run sessions on expectations for studying in higher education and show you around the library and learning resources. You will receive a programme handbook which will clearly explain your award, how it will run, and the people involved. In addition, it will provide hyperlinks where you will find help on module enrolment, assessment submission and if you need to apply for 'extenuating circumstances'. Your programme handbook will also include further information on the options available to you at levels 5 and 6 and the Programme Leader and Module Leaders will support you through this decision making process, to help you to achieve your personal goals and ambitions.

Progressing students will not be required to attend all induction activities at level 4, however will be invited to be involved in activities that will enable them to meet and feel fully integrated with their new cohort such as introduction to programme structure, modules and assessments and team building activities. In addition the students will be invited by the programme leader to mentor and support new students in other activities such as campus tours and general tips and guidance on being a UOC student.

Personal Tutoring

You will also be allocated a Personal Tutor. Your Personal Tutor will be proactively involved in the delivery of your programme and will have contact with you throughout your time at the University. They will support your learning and development, including through tutorials, Progress Reviews and other support as outlined in the Personal Tutoring Policy.

Personal Development Planning

Engagement with Personal Development Planning happens via various ways, such as

- incorporating PDP exercises and activities into departmental learning development activities (e.g. skills development modules, workshops or resources)
- liaising with Careers Service colleagues to provide resources to support students engagement with the University of Cumbria's Employability Vision

Library and Academic Support (based in Information Services)

Module leaders will collaborate with Library and Academic Advisors to ensure that your reading and resource lists are current and items are available via the library discovery tool OneSearch. In order to maximise access, availability and usefulness, ebooks and electronic journal titles will, in most cases, be prioritised. You can access a wide range of electronic and print content using OneSearch and you can find out more about key texts, databases and journals for your subject by accessing the library's subject resources webpages. Where appropriate, module reading and resource lists will be made available to you electronically using the University's online reading and resource list system.

The Skills@Cumbria service can help support your academic skills and success throughout your programme. The service is delivered by a team of professional Library and Academic Advisors. It includes a suite of online self-help resources accessible 24/7 via the University's website and Blackboard site. Our aim is to ensure you can access university electronic resources from anywhere or any device, whether on or off campus. The Student Hub is your one-stop gateway to all university systems, Outlook email, and OneDrive.

Whether you consider yourself a computer expert or you're not confident about your IT skills, we're always around to ensure you get the level of support you need. We have a wealth of information and support available on the website and have a dedicated IT Service Desk where you can talk to someone by phone or log your question online from anywhere, at any time.

Student Support Services

Student Support Services offer a wide range of support, including: careers and employability, financial help, counselling, health and wellbeing and support for disabled students and those with specific learning requirements. We also offer mentoring by trained students which you can request at any point during your studies. We know that you want to get the most out of your programme, make the best use of your time and find or continue in the career you always dreamed of. In addition to the range of guidance above, you have the opportunity to further develop your personal, academic and professional skills by taking part in a number of initiatives coordinated and delivered by professional services advisers:

Student Transition Advisor Support (Level 3)

During the first year of your programme (year 0) you will have access to support from dedicated

Student Transition Advisors. These advisors will provide you with individual academic and pastoral support alongside the academic team to ensure you reach your full potential whilst you are on this programme. In particular they will help you to adjust to university study, assist you in the navigation of the academic environment, policies, expectations and signposting to a wide range of services. They also work with you and your personal tutor to help you to develop your own strategies for effective study and provide additional one-to-one and group support in academic writing and numeracy skills.

A key feature of the foundation year programme is the additional student support that has been built into the modules in particular the Essential University Skills 1 and Essential University Skills 2 modules that have an additional 12 contact hours included to enable staff to provide additional individual and group tutorials facilitated by the Student Transition Advisors.

Headstart

Head Start is a self-learning pre-entry module that is completed online and at your own pace. The module gives new undergraduate students an opportunity to prepare for their transition into university and to start to develop the academic skills that will help them become successful students.

All UG students are given the opportunity to register and complete Head Start prior to entry on their main programme of study. If you haven't been able to complete Head Start before starting your course, you can access the module via Blackboard by selecting the Skills@Cumbria tab and then the Head Start tile. Learning at university, academic writing and referencing are the key topics introduced in the module and previous students have told us how useful they have found the online resources and activities.

Head Start Plus

Head Start Plus is also an online skills development course, designed to support students who are about or who have just started study at level 5 or 6 (2nd and 3rd year undergraduate). This course is particularly recommended to students who may not have studied at HE level for some time or who are transitioning into the higher HE levels. The course provides a useful refresh on academic skills and practice and an insight into the expectations of tutors at those levels.

This course is free and available via the Open Education Platform powered by Blackboard. To access the course, follow the link to <https://openeducation.blackboard.com/cumbria> and set-up a free account with Open Education. Once logged on, select the course free of charge and work through it at your own pace.

Peer Mentoring @ Cumbria

You will be allocated a student Mentor who will be in touch to offer a non-judgemental and friendly hand and to help with various aspects of your student experience, from making friends to settling in, to helping you understand the expectations of academic study and dealing with assessment worries.

Mature Students' Events

Whether it is a coffee morning, lunchtime gathering or a social event, there are events happening throughout the year to link you up with other mature students who will also be juggling a number of commitments alongside their studies.

Help is at Hand Events

Keep a look out for these interactive events on campus around October and January. You are encouraged to attend these as they showcase the range of support available here and give you the opportunity to talk to people from Finance, Accommodation, the Students' Union, the Wellbeing and Disability Team etc.

Career Ahead+
